About DISSE PROJECT

The project Digital Storytelling on Sharing Economy, short DISSE, aims at reconsidering the concepts of 'property' and 'sharing' across Europe. Our society is facing quick and technology-driven changes. New technologies have been finding their way into all our living environments and the development of online platforms have made sharing easier than ever.

Throughout Europe, many new business models on sharing have emerged, sharing and swapping has become a billion Euro market. As an economic factor, the sharing economy will likely become more and more important within the next few years. Hence, this relatively recent cooperative sharing economy needs to be included into the list of school topics. Pupils need to get a realistic view on the Sharing Economy and all its aspects and many facets.

DISSE Project will provide two important Results:

R1: Best Practices on Sharing Stories: The goal of the first result is to collect information and best practices on the sharing economy and the climate change, a phenomenon that is growing constantly but is still quite new.

R2: Digital Storytelling Classrooms Toolkit: The goal of the second result is to - create concepts and materials for classroom usage, i.e. a teacher's manual and a sharing guide.

In DISSE Project 6 events will be organized in all partner countries involving a total of 240 participants.

DISSE KICK OFF MEEING

The kick-off meeting was held in Stockholm, Sweden, on 27-29 April 2022. Wise Academy, the project coordinator, hosted the project partners. The meeting took place in a hybrid format, bringing together direct participants and online participants.

The project partners presented their own organisations and contribution to the project. The results and related activities were discussed and all partners agreed on the future activities to be carried out. The meeting was crucial to make decisions about the future of the DISSE project and set the tasks to conduct in the next months, in order to reach the project's objectives.
